Deadline: 30 April 2022

Doctoral students engaged in the preparation of a dissertation on the history of technology, broadly defined are encouraged to apply for the Melvin Kranzberg Fellowship. The $4,000 award is unrestricted and may be used in any way that the winner chooses to advance the research and writing of their dissertation (The award may not be used for university tuition or fees).

Students from institutions of higher learning anywhere in the world who are working on projects in the history of technology are eligible to apply; and doctoral candidates from outside the United States are especially encouraged to submit application materials.

Applicants must have completed all requirements for their doctorate except for the dissertation by September 1 of the year the award is made. Students from outside the United States, whose programs of study may follow a different pattern, are encouraged to contact the committee chair to review their standing and discuss their eligibility for the fellowship.
